Aldermanic Liaison to the Economic Development Advisory Committee

Ald. Krol reported that four people had submitted their names for aldermanic liaison: Aids. Dennik, Walsh, Meaux and Nikcevich.

Each Candidate gave a statement regarding their reason for submitting their names.

Ald. Dennik commented that he was very enthusiastic about the work this committee will be doing. He felt strongly that the Economic Development Advisory Committee (EDAC) would provide support for the Community Development Director and staff. He thought that his background in economic development would be an asset to the committee.

Ald. Walsh was concerned about transparency and felt that he could help with implementing and communicating the EDAC's goals.

Ald. Nikcevich would like to bring a picture analysis because of the large number of small businesses in the city. She also thought she could contribute her good communication skills.

Ald. Meaux thought he could be an independent representative for the city being involved not only in economic development, but workforce development as well. He believes that good economic policy is a about the people not just the buildings.
